A fast, simple way to transfer analog video from a camcorder or any other source to your Mac in an iPod-native format. Macintosh video capture has never been so easy.

You can record video from any analog source, including a camcorder, set-top box, game console or VCR. The hardware MPEG-4 encoder frees up your Mac's processor for other tasks.

Videos are added automatically to iTunes, ready to sync with an iPod or Apple TV™.

Connects to your Mac via a USB 2.0 or 1.1 port for fast Macintosh video capture.
